Entered at the Palatka postoffice as mailable matter of the second class.

Dr. Lincoln Halley, president of the John B. Stenson University at DeLand, has been admitted to practice as an attorney in all the courts of Florida. Lucky will be the litigant who can secure the services of this big-brained man.

In a recent speech President Taft said that "socialism will be the next great question before the people." That it is so rapidly coming to the front is due largely to what might be termed the lawlessness of the respectable—those who work through great corporations and for which they are constantly seeking special privileges.

Marianna and Quincy each have baseball teams that are evidently in the major league class. On Monday of last week these teams played a 16-inning game, which, had it not been for darkness, might have resulted in a dozen more "goose eggs." As it was the game was a tie, with but one run to the credit of each club.

President Taft has signed the public building bill which authorizes the expenditure of $22,000,000, one item of which is for a site and Federal building in Palatka. As the bill, however, does not actually appropriate the money, Palatka will wait at least until the assembling of the next congress for the cash with which to begin operations.

Palatka isn't going to do any thing for young America in the way of a Fourth of July celebration and that's wrong. There's nothing that appeals so much to the boys as an "insane" Fourth. Crescent City is the only town in the county that is making any arrangements for a celebration. Col. G. T. Graham, a noted lawyer of Columbia, S. C., will be the orator.

The Tampa Tribune has acknowledged the future value of the Everglades in the following sentence in an editorial advocating the building of a railroad to control the traffic of this great section: "Drained and made available for settlement, the Everglades region will be the productive center of the south. Millions will be invested there and millions will come out of that region in products and trade."

The rivers and harbors bill signed by President Taft last week insures immediate work in deepening the St. Johns river from Jacksonville to the sea, from Jacksonville to Palatka, and from Palatka to Lake Harney. The bill does not provide for the work being done according to the most approved system, and the president has stated that he will never sign another which does not so provide, and that he only signed this in order that important improvements would not be delayed.

Cromwell Gibbons says its no joke about his candidacy for the governorship, and that he intends to start his campaign in August. This month is chosen, evidently, to impress other prospective candidates with the idea that he is going to set them a hot pace. We are told that Mr. Gibbons is expecting the support of the Broward-Stockton-Barrs faction, but our prediction is that Mr. Stockton will be a candidate. Governor Broward's recent victory has acted as a powerful stimulant to the hopes and aspirations of the other two members of the triumvirate.—Bradford County Telegraph.

Profiting by the criticisms hurled at his colleague, Senator Taliaferro, during his late disastrous campaign for re-nomination, Senator Fletcher has introduced a bill for the purpose of securing immunity from like criticism when he comes before the people for re-nomination four years hence. The bill is aimed at the removal of the head and front of the republican party in Florida, and because of its endorsement upon presidential prerogative, will never leave the committee to which it has been referred. But the bill has already served its real purpose. Senator Fletcher probably knows better than any of his constituents that the bill has no show of becoming law, but he also knows that it can not be said of him in his future campaigns that he hasn't made an effort to remove the negro who is secure, under republican rule, in his occupancy of the chief federal office in Florida.

The editor of the Leader at Fort Meade, under his own signature, publishes the following as defining the attitude of his paper in the present fight for a prohibition amendment to the Florida Constitution:

"THE LEADER is supporting the Prohibition Amendment to the Florida Constitution because we believe that the wisest way to deal with the liquor traffic is to entirely prohibit the sale and manufacture of alcoholic liquors, a beverage. This is not so much a moral question as it is a question of public policy. The health and safety of its citizens is of real concern to a state.

"Realizing that there is something to be said on the other side, THE LEADER throws its columns open to our friends who disagree with us. Articles on either side of this question are invited with the conditions that they are well written, brief, pertinent, impersonal, and signed by the true name of the writer. No opinions on any subject will be printed in THE LEADER except under the true name of the writer. In all his newspaper work, on this paper and others, the editor of this paper has fought in the open. Never in over fifteen years of writing for the public press has a criticism written by me of public official or policy been printed except under my true name. News items are printed anonymously, but OPINIONS MUST BE SIGNED BY THE AUTHOR.

"Deciders of the license system, if you have anything to say for your side, come into the arena."

A new traffic bridge has just been completed and opened to the public across the Manatee river at Manatee. The bridge was built by the Manatee Bridge Co. of which C. H. Davis is president, and will therefore be able to charge something in the way of tolls. This bridge is about the same length as the one spanning the St. Johns river at Palatka, and which was built by the county. If a bridge across the Manatee is a good investment for private capital, such a structure across the St. Johns is a good investment for county money. And a public bridge is perfectly proper property for public ownership. The Palatka bridge will pay its cost to Putnam county indirectly in two years. It will pay its cost directly in less than five.

And there's a lot of good horse sense in the following from the last issue of the DeLand News:

"Is it wise to spend $5,000 a mile on shell roads? This is a question that must be settled before a bond issue will depend to a great extent the success of the issue at the polls. How much per mile will it cost to build a ten-foot vitrified brick road, and if brick is used, which are to be the first roads built? How can any one ask the people to vote bonds for good roads when no one knows where the roads are to be built, of what material, nor how much money will be required? Would a man borrow money with which to build a house before he knew where he was going to build, of what material, how large, for what purpose, or what his house was going to cost? Verily, verily, we are a set of clumps when it comes to voting, and spending the people's money."

Putnam county took a pat stand for the project of the Mississippi-to-Atlantic Inland-Waterway Association, and formed a branch organization last Friday night through the efforts of the board of trade. This waterway will mean a great up-building of this section and is worth a strong fight and everybody's support.

ROSE TO THE OCCASION.

It Was the Chance of a Lifetime, and She Made the Most of It.

The burglar hesitated. Back of him was a sheer drop of twenty-five feet to the ground. In front of him was a determined woman, grasping in her hand a huge revolver. She covered him steadily.

"I won't shoot," she said, "if you will remain still."

She advanced upon him and, poking the muzzle of the gun in his face, reached into his pocket and pulled out his revolver.

"Come in."

The burglar obediently stepped inside the room. All his courage was gone.

"Sit down," said the woman.

He sat down.

She got a huge ball of heavy cord from her bureau and spent the next twenty minutes in tying him up.

Then she pointed out of the window.

"Is that your wagon out there behind the barn?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Thought you would carry away my silver to it?"

"Yes, ma'am."

The woman called her husband, who had been hiding behind the baby's crib in the next room.

"Here, John," she said, "take some of this furniture out."

John came in and got to work. The burglar watched with curious eyes. Suddenly his face blanched. He looked out of the window and saw in the light of the moon what John was carrying.

"What are you doing to me?" he asked.

The woman began cutting his cords.

"I'm going to load you up with all of the old epesores that we have had in the house for these many years," she said merrily—"all the furniture presented to us at Christmas by kind-hearted relatives, all the prizes we have taken at card parties, all the family portraits—everything that we have been simply dying to get rid of."

Life.

"Nine Tailors Make a Man."

The often employed phrase, "nine tailors make a man," is said to have originated in the following incident:

"In 1742 an orphan boy applied at a fashionable tailor's shop in London in which nine journeymen were employed.

His interesting appearance opened the hearts of the benevolent tailors, who immediately contributed 9 shillings for the relief of the little stranger.

With this capital he purchased fruit, which he retailed at a profit.

Time passed on, and wealth and honor smiled upon the young tradesman, so that when he set up his carriage he instead of troubling the college of heralds for a crest he painted the following motto on his carriage door: 'Nine tailors made me a man.'"

ENDORSED AT HOME.

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Palatka Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Palatka adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

J. E. Marshall, lawyer, 505 Kirby St., Palatka, Fla., says: "I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at J. H. Haughton's Drug Store and used them for backaches with satisfactory results. I highly recommend this remedy to any person in need of a kidney tonic."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlhenny Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

CURE FOR LOSS OF MEMORY.

Case of an American Woman Married Abroad and an Accent.

"Nothing disgusts me more," said a woman who goes abroad every summer, "than to meet in Europe Americans who seem to be ashamed of their own language. I have often come across them, but a woman I met in Carlsbad last year took the palm.

"She was introduced to me as the Countess Komofsky or some name that sounded like that. She married a Russian or a Pole about three years before, and so far as I can gather she had hardly been any nearer Europe than a New York table d'hote before that time. She looked American, but her English was all broken into bits. She did not even say 'the,' but pronounced it 'ze.' She had great difficulty in recollecting phrases, and the result at times was a lot of French.

"Next morning I was breakfasting in the Kaiserpark with a party of shaw wrapped Americans who had drunk the requisite number of glasses from the Sprudel or the Markbrunnen and had walked out according to prescription. One of those at the table was a New York physician who is none the less popular because he is frank in speech almost to brutality and will not stand for affectation. The countess came along and was invited to join the party. The doctor, it turned out, had known her since she was a child. "Somebody asked her a question, and she started to reply with that accent of hers. I saw the doctor fidget. Then she made another remark in half French. The doctor said something that sounded like a swear. Then he blurted out:

"For heaven's sake, Maria Smith, you don't mean to say that three years in Europe have made you forget your native tongue?"

"There was a hush, and then some of the women in the party smiled, but when the countess next spoke it was in purest United States.—New York Sun.

Well Named.

"A wonderful man is my uncle," said little Blinks, "so very original and witty. He says he called his dog Snuggly because it was half bread, his goat Nerbly because it was all but and his prize cockerel Robinson because it Crusoe."

A Rare Old Book.

The second book printed in the English language was "The Game and Playe of the Chess," which the title page says was "Fynysht the last day of Marche, the yer of our lord god a thousand four hundred and LXIIIJ." Only twelve copies of the work are now known to exist. In 1813 an Englishman of the name of Alchorne sold his copy for a sum equal to $270 in United States currency. Fifty-six years later, in 1869, the same volume (an imperfect copy) was sold for $2150. The British museum has refused an offer of $10,000 for its copy, which is imperfect to the extent of having seven leaves missing.

The Making of Words.

Dean Swift protested against "speculations, operations, preliminaries, ambassadors, palliades, communication, circunvallation, battallions," as new-fangled expressions brought into common use by the war of his day. Today nearly all these are the most orthodox English. In his time "mob" was commonly to have been written "mobak," and "puzz" also had the doubled consonant. Hence his complaint that "we cram one syllable and cut off the rest as the owl fattened her mice after she had bit off their legs to prevent them from running away."

Posted.

Fater—Can you give my daughter the comforts to which she has been accustomed? Sutor—Yes, sir, I've been fastened at your house, and I'm certain that I can complain about the coffee, read the paper, demand the discharge of the cook and announce that I'll dine at the club.—New York Journal.

A Clean Cut.

Sykes—My eyes met hers, and, would you believe it, she cut me! Tykes—How very rude! Who is she? Sykes—Oh, a lady barber. She was shaving me, and this is the cut.—London Telegraph.

Consoling Her.

Bess—I sometimes wish I might see myself as others see me. Nell—Oh, you poor dear! Why, you just couldn't believe your eyes!—Browning's Magazine.

Cruel.

Cook in Comfort

You no longer need wear your self out with the weakening heat of an intensely hot kitchen. You can cook in comfort.

Here is a stove that gives no outside heat. All its heat is concentrated at the burners. An intense blue flame (hotter than either white or red) is thrown upwards, but not around. All the heat is utilized in cooking—none in outside heating.

New Perfection
WICK BLUE FLAME

entirely removes the discomfort of cooking. Apply a match and immediately the stove is ready. Instantly an intense heat is projected upwards against the pot, pan, kettle or boiler, and yet there is no surrounding heat—no smell—no smoke.

Why? Because the New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove is scientifically and practically perfect. You cannot use too much wick—it is automatically controlled. You get the maximum heat with no smoke. The burner is simple. One wipe with a cloth cleans it—consequently there is no smell.

The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove is wonderful for year-round use, but especially in summer. Its heat operates upward to pan, pot, or kettle, but not beyond or around. It is useless for heating a room.

It has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot. It has long turquoise-blue enamel chimneys. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

The notice of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its ages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Wagner and Thirteen.

In the life of Richard Wagner the number thirteen played a curious part. He was born in 1813, the numerals of which, added together, are equal to thirteen, and he received a name the letters of which when added to those of his family name are also equal to thirteen. Moreover, he finished "Tannhauser" on April 13, 1860, and it was performed for the first time on March 13, 1861. Twenty-two years later he died, and again the mystical number was dominant, for he passed away on Feb. 13, 1883.
